March 17-23 is National Poison Prevention Week. The national Poison Center Phone number is 1-800-222-1222. Program your cell phone with this number –it may save time in an emergency. We think children get poisoned more often but most people who die from poisons are adults. To prevent accidental poisoning keep products out of the reach of children, read labels, follow directions, make sure CO detectors are working, never call medicine 'candy', talk to children about drugs and alcohol. Grandparents as caregivers sometimes need a reminder. Using activated charcoal in case of a poisoning is no longer in effect. Calling the Poison Control Center number with the name of the product, age of the patient, and amount of poison involved will help you get prompt, accurate treatment information. The Welcome Place has stickers and brochures available to anyone who might need them. They are open Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays or call 218-863-2260.
